SYMPOSIUM ON SOLID MECHANICS

Symposium Co-Chairs:

Dr. Hamid Akbarzadeh (McGill University) and Dr. Dan Romanyk (University of Alberta)

THE SYMPOSIUM

The Solid Mechanics Technical Committee of Canadian Society for Mechanical Engineering (CSME) invites you to submit a paper or an abstract to the 2021 CSME International Congress to be held at the University of Prince Edward Island in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, from June 27-30, 2021.

The Symposium on Solid Mechanics focuses on a variety of theoretical, computational, and experimental aspects of solid mechanics studies as they apply to the following areas:

- Advanced Materials
- Multifunctional Structures
- 3D Printed Architected Materials
- Biomaterials
- Energy Systems
- Multiscale Simulation and Design

ABSTRACT/PAPER SUBMISSION

The submissions to the Congress are in two formats:

- Abstract: 400-word maximum (no full paper submission will be required*) or
- Full-length paper: 6-page maximum

* Accepted abstracts and full papers will be published in the Conference Proceedings. All accepted papers/abstracts will be scheduled for an oral presentation.

For paper templates and submission instructions, please visit <https://www.csmecongress.org/submissions>.
